

Teaching breastfeeding skills

Acknowledgements

This DVD has been developed in partnership by the UNICEF UK Baby Friendly Initiative and the Health Promotion Agency for Northern Ireland. It aims to assist in the implementation of recognised best practice standards for breastfeeding by providing clear guidance on effective approaches to positioning and attachment, and the hand expression of breastmilk.

The UNICEF UK Baby Friendly Initiative and the Health Promotion Agency for Northern Ireland would like to thank the staff and mothers of the Royal Jubilee Maternity Hospital, the Northern Health and Social Care Trust and the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust for their support in the making of this DVD.

Use of the DVD

This DVD is intended for use by breastfeeding educationalists, health professionals and support workers who provide practical support to breastfeeding mothers. It is designed to assist with the implementation of the UNICEF UK Baby Friendly Initiative best practice standards for breastfeeding. Specifically, it constitutes a teaching resource for use in breastfeeding training programmes that contain a practical clinical skills element.

Conditions of use

This DVD may be used for teaching purposes only, within the context of a staff training programme. It is NOT intended for use in a public forum, nor for viewing by expectant women, new mothers or their families. In obtaining this DVD, the user agrees to these conditions.

Copyright

Copyright of this DVD rests jointly with the UNICEF UK Baby Friendly Initiative and the Health Promotion Agency for Northern Ireland. Neither the DVD nor any of its content may be used for commercial gain, or for anything other than the purposes stated above, without the direct consent of the copyright owners. Please contact the Health Promotion Agency for Northern Ireland, 18 Ormeau Avenue, Belfast BT2 8HS (email: info@hpani.org.uk) if you require further information.

80/02

Teaching breastfeeding skills

An educational resource that provides clear guidance on effective approaches to breastfeeding skills training, this DVD is essential viewing for anyone involved in providing breastfeeding education.

Health
Promotion
Agency

